They consult with clients wishing to lose weight and sell weight loss products supplied by the Canadian company Ideal Protein, established in 2003 by Dr. Tran Tien Chang. The Ideal Protein Protocol is medically derived and scientifically proven to work and is safe to use. The clinic provides a personalized, customized approach and guides clients every step of the way for long term success. They have about 650 clients. The No-Hassle Diet Clinic is the longest running weight-loss clinic in Kelowna and is one of the top clinics in western Canada. Operating hours are 10am to 4pm so this business could be a perfect match for someone who has kids at school. Most of their business is generated by word of mouth referrals, based on positive outcomes, and medical practitioners. (id:3942)
